SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

Within the next few days the death knell may be sounded over Truckee's famous winter sports—one of the things which has gone far in making this region known throughout the land. The chamber of commerce, faced with the doubtful task of financing the program this year, has all but washed its hands of the job, blaming the disinterested attitude of former willing supporters for the failure. We hate to see winter sports here discontinued. A foundation that has stood for years will be wiped away and even though private interest take over the concession, it will still be a heavy loss to the town. Unless a good fight is staged to maintain the program, it is gone. The only question is will we make the necessary effort or attend the funeral.

This week members of the Truckee Volunteer Fire Department, those same boys who will, if the occasion demands go to your house or store at any hour of the day or night and regardless of personal inconvenience or danger, make every effort to save your property from loss by fire, may call upon you to buy a ticket to the dance which they are sponsoring on October 29. The sale of these tickets marks the compensation the firemen receive for their labors in maintaining an efficient department and for their work in our behalf. The $1 asked is small pay indeed for this service.

A hunter left his slain buck under the watchful eyes of his faithful dog recently while he went to bring his car closer to the kill. Returning he found his buck gone and where it had been was the lifeless body of his dog, the deer tag attached to its limp neck and a hastily scrawled note "Thanks for the deer, Bill," on the tag. A fine joke that. No doubt the perpetrator howled in glee as he left the scene of his fun, but to the average human mind it is hard indeed to concieve of such a loathsome act.

The deer hunting and fishing season end a week from Saturday and the duck hunting season blossoms forth. Because of unusually high water the fishin gthis season was not up to par, but anglers as a rule reported good luck while buck hunting was reported in most instances as exceptionally good. We can only hope for a good waterfowl season.

QUARTER OF MILLION SPENT BY POWER COMPANY ON LINE

Approximately $250,000 has been expended by the Sierra Pacific Power Company on a new standby line from the Washoe plant at Mogul on the Truckee river to the Sierra Summit, according to an announcement by George A. Campbell, president of the company.

A duplicate line from the generating plant to Lake Spaulding, belonging to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, is under construction to connect with the Sierra line at the summit to be used in event of any trouble from heavy storms in the winter.

Man Killed As Circus Truck Is Demolished

Nine Injured As Big Truck Gets Out of Control On Grade

BRAKES ARE BLAMED

Driver Says Victim Leaped As Truck Started Off Road

One man, Earl Branan, of Oregon, was killed and ten others were injured Monday when a circus truck and trailer bearing the office of the White City Shows, Inc., got out of control on the Bear Valley road and overturned on a sharp bend, catipulting the occupants into the trees and rocks.

State Traffic Sergeant C. E. McKeen of Truckee and Patrolman Art Barrick, who were called to the scene, said it was indicated the truck was not properly equipped with brakes.

Branan was riding in the cab with the driver, Claude Renner of Venice when the vehicle got out of control. Renner said that as the truck hit what is known as the "bottleneck" connection of the Tahoe-Ukiah road, and started to skid Branan jumped and crashed to his death.

Others who remained in the trailer and escaped with injuries were:

Charles Creekmore, 29, Cinicinnati.

Mrs. Ray Sweinhart, 22, Winfield, Kansas.

Harry Mize, 23, Knoxville, Tenn.

John Van Orman, 42, Syracuse, New York.

Al Rye, 41, Holy City, Calif.

George A. Barnes, 42, Prescott, Arizona

J. Donald Hunt, 25, Matton, Ill.

The caravan of circus equipment was en route from Reno to Nevada City and had passed through here earlier in the day. It was to have had performances in the county seat the day following the accident, but the mishap caused delay in the opening.

Coroner Francis West of Placer County, was called and took charge of the body of Branan. An inqest was slated for Wednesday afternoon in Colfax.

The cab was torn completely off the truck as the vehicle overturned in its mad flight down the grade. The trailer office was reduced to kindling.

Mrs. Margie Corey president of the incorporated company, has taken charge of the arrangements for the injured and the funeral for the dead man.

Man Jailed Here Has Big Criminal Record In West

Denied Criminal Record, But Fingerprints Prove Otherwise

WAS IN MANY PRISONS

Nabbed Here On Disturbance Charge; To Serve 30 Days

Ralph W. Wright arrested in Truckee nad sentenced to 30 days in the county jail for disturbing the peace, claimed he was without a criminal record, but Sheriff Carl Tobiassen found otherwise in his investigation.

The fingerprint records showed the suspect had been in the Iowa state prison on a charge of conspiracy from 1915 to 1917. Later that same year, according to the records, he was sentenced to five years in another Iowa prison for larceny and stayed three years there. In August, 1923, he was arrested in Los Angeles for a Harrison Narcotic Act violation and went to McNeill Island for two and a half years and was parolled on November 11, 1925.

Hydrant Parking Law To Be Enforced As Dangers Are Shown

Dolley Declares No Favors Will Be Srown In Arrests

Starting this week enforcement of the law prohibiting parking near a fire hydrant will be concentrated upon, Fire Chief N. F. Dolley said in pointing out that although signs and curb marking had been placed at the principal hydrant near the Sierra Tavern, motorists are loath to observe the restriction.

Chief Dolley said that an incipient fire started at 8 o'clock Tuesday night in the furnace room of the Tavern, which fortunately was controlled with borrowed extinguishers and the department was not called. Dolley said that even had the truck and equipment been necessary to combant the flames, it would have been impossible to get near the single hydrant on the main street because of the cars parked by it

"It is not the desire of the officers to restrict motorists from parking any more than is absolutely necessary but we are going to enforce this particular law without favor," the chief declared.

Winter Sports May Be Dropped By Local Group

Lack of Financial Aid For Backing Project Is Cause

COMMITTEE IS ACTIVE

Chamber Decides to Abandon Plan If No Interest Is Shown

Unless Truckee interests rule otherwise during the immediate future, efforts will be made to dispose of winter sports as a civic enterprise and the equipment, grounds and the other assets turned over to private interests.

This, in substance, was the opinion expressed at the last meeting of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce.

It was pointed out that despite the favorable reports by many of the local establishments, which benefit annually from the influx of the snow sport enthusiasts, that others, who may or may not have benefitted have turned thumbs down on the prospect with refusals to assist in a financial way.

The committee, comprising Frank S. Powell, C. E. Smith and Mrs. Lotta Bryant, named several weeks ago to interview merchants and others who control the destinies of winter sports, will complete its work in the near future and its findings will determine the action of the chamber which has in recent years assumed the responsibility for the welfare of the snow sports.

Several suggestions for disposing of the concessions have been made, but the chamber is reluctant to concede defeat if those who go to make up the membership show a desire to continue to assist financially.

The committee, headed by Powell, will seek suggestive criticism and if any possible way can be worked out, the project will be continued, but indications are that this will be impossible unless more interest is taken at once.

The town has been to considerable expense in maintaining winter sports and Truckee has built up a reputation which other areas would value most highly, and it would be shameful to lose these valuable assets, but without more support, the chamber feels there is no other course to follow but abandonment of the project.

NEWSPAPER WEEK

California's newspapers report on innumerable "special event" weeks for the whole year round. This time the newspapers have a week all their own.

Their voice in the community is a familiar one. For this reason, they are taken for granted—which it a compliment to their dependability. For this reason, we have Newspaper Week, beginning October 2, to serve as a reminder of the tasks they fulfill daily or weekly.

From the far corners of the earth they bring readers the endless story of history in the making. And from within the borders of heir community they bring the no less engrossing account of the events, civic and personal, and of the common interests, which bind our fellow-men together.

This is only one, but it is the biggest, of the tasks performed by the newspaper. Its written words help compose a more vivid living picture of the world around us—the world that lies within the confines of our neighborhood, and the world far beyond the borders of the nation.

This is the perpetual function of the newspaper. But without faithful subscribers, there would be neither newspapers nor a week in their honor. The readers are rightful fellow-participants. We invite them to join us in honoring the occasion.

LICENSE CHECK-UP

The song of the siren—the motorcycle cop's—is wailing along California's highways more frequently this week. Chief Raymond Cato has ordered all highway patrolmen to stop at least three motorists daily and examine their driver's license.

This is on the principle that it can do no harm and may do good, for the number of drivers on California highways who have no right to drive, and whose licenses have been revoked temporarily or permanently, is on the increase. Let this be fair warning to those who do have a right to drive but fail to keep their license at hand. That siren song may overtake you.

Politically Speaking

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 6.— (UP)— Strategists behind the organized opposition to the $30 weekly pension proposal have decided, in addition to the serious approach, to treat the idea on a "funny money" basis.

A flood of imitation dollar bills has hit the populace. Inscriptions such as "dopy dough" and "ezeemuny" head the bogus cerificates.

On the reverse side of the dopy dough warrants is inscribed this warning:

"Only dopy dough stands behind this warrant. The state won't honor it, the banks won't take, but dopy dough is for it. However, if you don't want dopy dough, vote no on proposition 25 at the November 8 election.

"Dopy dough can take it, but can you?"

The ezeemuny bills carry the picture of a Santa Claus standing under a bright rainbow. The paper is signed by Ham N. Eggs, treasurer and Pass de Buck, comptroller.

Advance reports of registration totals show the previous registration records probably will be shattered for the November election. And it is not too much to say the $30 pension is to a considerable degree responsible.

What causes grave concern to those who see in the plan a potential cause of financial chaos in California is the attitude of many in the so called responsible citizen group.

A typical comment is: "well, I know it won't work but there certainly will be a lot of scrambling around if the pepole approve it. I'd like to see the fun anyway."

Certainly, to people who have little now, the argument that the state's financial structure will be upset will have little appeal. Neither will the humorous angle, for that matted.

Proponents of the plan continue to employ the radio, public address systems and other media to inform their following the $30 pension is going to carry, and to stay with the ship.

To some observers there is a certain danger inherent in joking too much about the idea, no matter how impractical it may sound, if the electorate is called upon to decide. Something for nothing and the fact many voters like a sideshow may make a disasterous combination for those who are carrying the fight against the pension plan.

The touch of ridicule, it would seem, should not be pressed too heavily in the campaign.

Nomination of Lee O'Daniel for governor in Texas is a case in point. O'Daniel, a flour salesman with a flair for oratory and a knowledge of the bible, put on a display of political gymnastics that left his opponent howling with laughter. He transported his entire family and a hillbilly band on a whirlwind tour of the Lone Star state. But when the votes were in, O'Daniel was first.

Of course, the anti-pension campaign still has the accent on gravity. It is likely this phase will increase and the levity diminish as the campaign warms up in the stretch.

Expected resignation of U. S. senator William Gibbs McAdoo to become head of the Dollar Shipping Lines for the maritime commission has given little aid and less comfort to the supporters of Sheridan Downey, who displaced McAdoo for the democratic senatorial nomination at the August primary.

Governor Frank F. Merriam could make the outlook very dark if he chose to name Downey's Republican opponent Philip Bancroft, to fill the unexpired term.

Bancroft's name would appear on the ballot as the incumbent in this eventuality and this would be a decided advantage in the race.

As yet, however, McAdoo has not announced the date of his resignation nor has Merriam said he would name Bancroft to fill the vacancy.

Qusetioned at Santa Barbara, the govenor said at present he has no intention of naming anyone should McAdoo make his resignation effective immediately.

"There is on vacancy in the representation of California in the U. S. senate," the governor said, never one to jump at conclusions.

"True we hear that Senator McAdoo is going to resign, but until that resignation is a fact there is nothing for me to do.

"If and when McAdoo resigns, I would be inclined to appoint someone who is not a candidate for the senatorial toga. The appointment would be merely honorary. I have not discussed the matter with Bancroft."

McAdoo later announced he would name the date of resignation at San Francisco next week.

The Tahoe region on Sunday received its first real snow storm of the winter season, heavy winds being followed by a downpour of rain, hail and finally snow. Snow fell throughout the region, but in the lowlands disappeared quickly, the mountain ranges surrounding the lake coated with a heavy blanket of white when the storm subsided. The thermometer dropped to 24 above zero on Sunday night. The waters of the lake were extremely rough Saturday and Sunday, mail being taken around by truck instead of the mail boat. During the three day storm precipitation amounted to .58 of an inch. On Tuesday morning the lake level stood at 6227.81 with 303 C. S. F. of water leaving the Tahoe gates.

SUGGESTIONS ARE CONSIDERED DURING FLOOD MEET IN RENO

TAHOE CITY, Oct. 6.— Ways and means of lessening the dangers of property damage around Lake Tahoe and at the same time preserve the necessary irrigation waters for the farms of Nevada, were under discussion at the special flood control hearing concerning the Truckee river and Lake Tahoe in Reno last Wednesday.

Among those atending were Henry F. Droste, George Kehlet, Charles Young, Mrs. Cra B. Harding, Louis Bartlett, Ray Kniseley representing Anita Baldwin, Carl Bechdolt, Sr., Ernest and Stanley Pomin, Chris Nielsen, Frederick Klamp, Gertrude Broach, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanson, W. M. Bliss, Attorney Harry Morton representing the Henry Kaiser estate, H. I. Snider of Tahoe National Forest, C. Edmunds of the Truckee Public Utility district and Henry S. Lyon, distirct attorney of El Dorado county.

Colonel L. B. Chambers of Sacramento, who presided, started the meeting off by reading into the records five letters received from Tahoe property owners, Alice Bullion of San Anselmo, R. W. Charles of San Francisco, E. G. Schmeidel and W. M. Miller of Sacramento. and A. R Westphal of San Francisco. Schmeidel's letter expressed no dissatisfaction or disadvantages by high water of 1938; Charles desired a maximum level to be maintained at 6229.1 while Miller estimated his Meek's Bay property damaged to the extent of $500 with 45 feet of wharf carried away already, and the balance expected to be carried away this winter. Mrs. Bullion deplored high water and discoloration of water and plumbing fixtures in her Sunnyside home. Westphal, who set no monetary damage, suffered extensive inconvenience at his estate Westlake where the waters washed piles of gravel onto the lawns, compeitely obliterating the beach, kept his bathhouse under a foot or more of water and necessitated the moving of his motor boat out of the boathouse.

Morton declared damage at Tall Pines caused by the high water was estimated at around $15,770, with further continuance of high water expected to raise this figure. Kaisers opinion was that any elevation above 6228.0 would prove disasterous to his property.

Others told of property damage and inconvenieces suffered by the flood.

Lyons stressed the necessity of preservinig the beauties of the recreational facilities at Tahoe as a vacation center and urged the level maximum be fixed at 6228.0.

Edmunds gave an interesting history of the incorporation of the Truckee Public Utility District and urged development of similar projects for other sections. He asked that the smaller tributaries of the Truckee be dammed rather than using the main stream for storage purposes, as Truckee business interests and residents are vitally interested in building homes along the river and maintaining the stream for its fine fishing possibilities. He recommended acquisation and control of Donner

The next meeting will be announced at a later date.

THIS WEEK AT THE STATE CAPITOL

By JOHN ABBOTT
United Press Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 6.— (UP)— Affidavits filed with the secretary of state's office during the week disclosed campaigns to qualify propositions for the ballot cost considerable money.

Proponents of proposition 1, which defines picketing, boycotting and display of banners, reported receipts of $92,227 and expenditures of $72,095 thus far.

Principal contributors were listed as: Industrial Association of San Francisco, $31,000; Southern Californians Incorporated, $11,500 and S. F. MacFarlane of Los Angeles, $10,000.

Other proposition campaigns, both for and against included: proposition 20, so-called single tax measure, Number 2, anti-vivisection initiative and number 13, referendum on the Garrison Revenue bond act of 1937.

The California state chamber of commerce reported it disbursed approximately $15,000 against number 20 and 25, the $30 every Thursday pension plan. Proponents of number 20 disclosed expenditures of $20,986

The state relief administration charging "vicious and vigorous pressure" has been used in connection with the strike of San Francisco department store employes, announced its funds will not be used to aid labor disputes by furnishing relief to strikeers if employment is open to them.

Administrator Harold E. Pomeroy said regarding the San Francisco store situation the administration takes the view the stores are operating and theerfore opportunity for work is available.

A California manufacturing company moved to improve the lot of humanity by filing an application for a trademark on a delayed light switch which will enable persons to turn off the lights and then jump into bed before the room gets dark.

Countless shins would be saved from lacerations and bruises if the device works, observers believe.

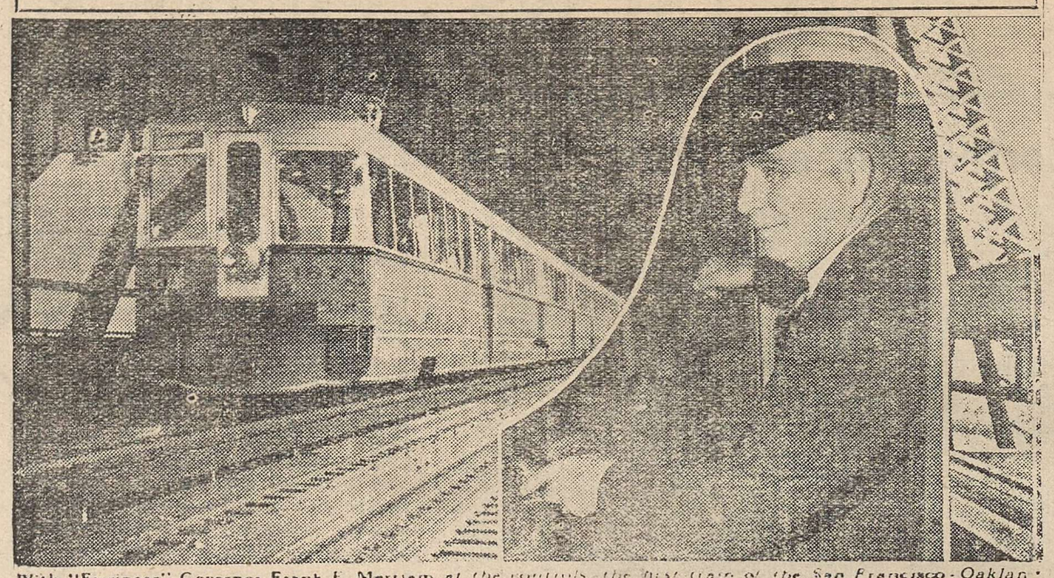
Aid of Governor Merriam in exempting them from provisions of the state grape pro rate agreement was requested by growers representing 12 northern California counties.

The delegates told the gvernor restrictions of the agreement meant ruin for them. Although stating he believed he lacked authority, the executive promised an investigation.

The state advisory pardon board which has already considered the cases and recommended against clemency, completed its second deliberation of the cases of John and Coke Brite, Siskiyou county triple slayers. The brothers, scheduled to hang on the Folsom gallows for killing two peace officers and a civilian, have been reprieved to December 9.

Adhering to its established policy, the board declined to comment but said its recommendations would be filed with the governor immediately.

Merriam Guides First Bridge Train



With "Engineer" Governor Frank F. Merriam at the controls, the first train of the San Francisco-Oakland interurban service crosses the Bay Bridge. The State executive was profuse in his praise of the streamliner's operation and the magnificent scenes afforded by the side. The bridge railway will be placed in actual operation shortly after the first of the year.

RENO WATER MEET

nd Cold streams by the government nd urged investigation of the feas bility of flood control at Squaw reek.

Bliss added his voice to the re uest that a thorough investigation e conducted by the war department Droste, secretary of the Lake hoe Sierra Association, read in ful petition signed by the members of he group which include 20 major nd 26 minor resort owners at the ke. It set forth that continuation f the present highwater mark will ause a depreciation of property in he region as high as 50 per cent. he petition suggested an additiona reservoir in the Martis creek basin which would store 125,000 arce feet an amount equal to one foot of Tahoe water. This would allow the owering of Tahoe to 6228.0 assuring return of bathing beaches and safety to sewer systems. Should the evel of 6229.1 be maintained during future high water stages, loss could eadily be estimated each season to escrt owners at $500,000 and all efforts to create a national playground at Tahoe, would be wasted.

All speakers approved the request for a complete army survey and believed the project sufficiently worthy and important to warrant its authorization in the nea rfuture. A preponderance of opinion favored lowering of Tahoe one foot to 6228.0. The answer will be available only after months of investigation.

The hope of an easter promoter to provided an added thrill for visitors to the 1939 San Francisco Golden Gate International Exposition by installing a coaster on the tower of the bay bridge met with a setback when the state toll bridge authority turned the idea down flatly. Chief Engineer Charles Purcell, who built the bridge, said the scheme was a "crackpot" idea.

Col. R. E. Mittelstaedt of the 250th coast artillery has succeeded Brigadier General Wallace Mason of the 79th brigade, National Guard Headquarters announced. Mason will retire with the rank of major general.

Builds Ancient War Machines

Perhaps you've never heard of a polybolos, a ballista, a cuthutone, an onager and a scorpio, but Jerome D. Laudermilk, a Pomona, Cal., college professor, builds miniature models of them, and they are ancient war machines. "It's a far cry from these primitive weapons to the poison gas, airplanes, submarines and aerial bombs we have now," Laudermilk observed.

TAHOE PERSONALS

Carl Brooks of Brockway is sporting a new Chevrolet this week.

Constable Harry Johanson spent several days in Sacrament and vicinity last week.

Mrs. A M. Anderson, librarian, declared that on last Wedensday, with most of the summer people already gone, the interest in the library remains unwavering, 108 books being loaned on that day, 33 juvenile books for grammar school students and 25 for high school students. The total for September was 813 as compared to 959 for August. Mrs. Alice Brown's donation incuded Christian Science Sentinal, the Monitor and the Journal, all of which will be available for reading all winter.

An interesting visitor in town between busses last week was one John P. Snigg of Springfield, Illinois. He is making a study of the Donner party for a story he plans.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fletcher of San Francisco are enjoying a vacation o fseveral weeks in their Rubicon Beach home.

HEARTLESS HUNTER HAS CRUDE IDEA OF PRACTICAL JOKE

TAHOE CITY, Oct. 6.— A story, unverified, which reached our ears this week appears in our opinion to top all tales of vengeance and inhumaneness ever published. Our informant did not know the names of the persons involved, luckily. He heard the story in Truckee, but we have been unable to track it down to date. A hunter wandered into the hills with his gun and dog, seeking the elusive buck .Luck was with him and he was not long in bringing down a forked horn. He tagged the deer and left his pet to guard it while he went to bring his car closer. Upon his return he found that not only had his buck been stolen, but his faithful pet had been shot and the deer tag tied to his limp lifeless body. Such wanton cruelty should merit a jolly tar and feather party, should this fiend be caught.

WARNING ISSUED BY HIGHWAY MAN FOR WET PAVEMENTS

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 6.— (UP)— Division of Highways Safety Engineer J. W. Vickery issued a warning against excessive speed on slippery highways. He declared 350 accidents last year were charged to slick pavements on California's rural highways.

"Highway engineers are building non-skid pavements and traffic protection features into roadways for protection of motorists," he said. "Engineers, however, cannot control rain, snow or frost. Slippery pavements caused by winter weather are only as safe as the motorist who drives upon them."

Vickrey declared the first shower on a dusty pavement is more dangerous than a heavy rain, because it mixes the dust and oil covering the road dinto a highly effective lubricant.

VACATIONS CONCERN SEEKS AID FOR PROMOTING PLAN

Initial step are being taken in this district to further the state wide organization designed to bring about a uniform three months school vacati oinn California. A. L. Richardson of Lake Tahoe has agree to assist in promoting the plan, it was announced this week by Ray Taylor, who was here in the interest of the campaign.

Vactations, Inc., is a non profit organization headed by Harye M. Toy, well known San Francisco and Monterey hotel man. It was formed last spring after various scattered groups throughout the state had ineffectually endeavored to induce school boards in the metropolitan centers to aid in the protection of California's billion dollar tourist industry by lengthening summer school vacation periods.

The organization proposes to secure legislation enactment at the beginning of next session of the state legislature, making a uniform three moths summer vacation manditory in all public schools.

Early action is desired owing to the fact that 1939 is California's Exposition year and countless thousands of tourists will be here for great fair. It was explained than unless a lengthened school vacation makes it possible for the resorts of the state to remain open, California stands to lose millions in tourist trade next year.

It was stated that curtailed summe rvacations in many counties and communities already have inflicted staggering losses on every line of business. When the schools open, the resorts must close. The result being that out of state tourists no longer have an yplace to go but home, taking their tourist dollars, that otherwise would be spent in the resorts, with them.

HUNTING SEASON ON WATERFOWL IS FIXED BY BOARD

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 6.— (UP)— Governor Frank F. Merriam has given his approval to an order issued by State Director of Natural Resources George D. Nordenholt which fixes the 1938 waterfowl season at October 15 to November 28 inclusive.

Local sportsmen looked forward to what they believed will be one of the best waterfowl hunting seasons in years. Reports of the United States biological survey indicate an unusually large crop of birds in the northern breeding grounds.

Nordenholt's order read in part: "It is ordered that all areas be closed to the taking of waterfowl Wilson's snipe and coot, except from October 15 to November 28. All except snipe must be taken between the hours of 7 a. m. and 4 p. m., while the variety may be shot between the hours of 7 a. m. and sunset.

SINGLE TAX HIT BY STATE BOARD AS CONFISCATORY

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 6.— (UP)— The state board of equalization adopted a resolution vigorously opposing the so-called single tax proposal No. 20 on the November ballot.

The resolution—presented by Fred E. Stewart, Oakland board member—called the proposal a "scheme to destroy rights in private property and to confiscate ownership in land."

Declaring the proposal is not designed to produce revenues for the supoprt of government, the resolution adopted declared:

"This same vicious measure would also repeal existing sales and use taxes which are the principal source of revenue to the treasury of the state, and out of which our splendid public school system has been supported. No provision whatsoever is made for the replacement of these revenues, aggregating more than $90,000,000 a year, but would leave the schools wholly dependent upon the property tax for support.

"The purported exemptions and reductions in taxation contained in said measure are purely illusory and would not, in fact, occur by reason of the pyramiding of tax burden on farmers, home owners and property owners generally.

In the opinion many with the exodus of deer seeking lower altitudes since the rain and snow storms of recent weeks is that the animals know when to move to new scenery while the residents look forward to replenishing their winter requirements. The firs with an abundance of cones to warn that fall is here and winter is just around the corner.

Many deer hunters were out in the hills over last week but failed, outside of exercise and fresh air they were unable to obtain anything.

After many days of cloudy skies the showers started on Saturday increasing wit hintensity on Sunday morning and about noon a cold wave set in bringing snow flurries which during Sunday night left two inches of new snow on the ground and being the pines and firs were wet the snow adhered to their branches forming a fine sight to the early Monday morning motorists through this vicinity.

En route to explore California, Quentin Owen of Grafton, West Virginia stopped over in Norden several hours while scouting about and was given a posotion at the Norden store in which he has proven proficient and is fast making friends with local residents with the result he plans to remain sometime.

A buck stew at Dutch Flat which was put over in great style was enjoyed by a large assemblage last Saturday night with many local residents attending.

Many friends of Harold Boomer of Sacramento and formerly of Norden who has been confined to the Southern Pacific Hospital at San Francisco for the past month, will be pleased to learn of his rapid recovery and will return to his home this week to resume work early the following week.

The home of Howard Shepard of Tunnel Six Terrace is filled with relatives and friends from Oklahoma the past week.

COOKING TEACHER says

BAKED HALF HAM
Place, fat side up, on rack in open roasting pan. Bake in slow oven (300° F.), allowing 30 minutes per pound. (Hams, specially processed, require shorter cooking-time.) Forty minutes before done, take off rind. Pour strained honey over ham and finish baking.
